three distributing points in Scranton for the sale of ice, outside of the factory, which seems to hold its own.	as governors at Mr. William Howell's.	THE DANJO IS THE SKIFFER DANCE OF Mr. Burton, the soft voices of the ladies and the murmur of the "tipping, leaping, laughing sea," made music indescribably sweet, and time went quickly by. The mouth of the river was soon reached, the light-house on the point, railroad bridge and glimmering lights of the city of Scranton rapidly passed, and by 10 o'clock the great saw-mill town of Moss Point came into view. Landings were soon made, and in a little while this most delightful outing was a thing of the past, though with some memories of its pleasures will linger long into the future. XXX.
Monday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock, a fire broke out under the engine-room at the Farnsworth Lumber Co's saw mill. The alarm whistle was sounded and large numbers of people hastened to the rescue. Owing to a gale prevailing at the time, the danger was imminent, and it was only with the utmost difficulty that the flames were finally extinguished.	Several members of Mr. Rogers' family are sick, also some of Mr. E. B. Smith's family. It is desired that the Ladies Aid Society meet promptly at date and time agreed upon. There will be preaching at Zion on the fourth Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. by the pastor. Mrs. Kennedy, of Three Rivers and Mr. John Smith, of New Orleans are visitors this week. The Mormon preacher (?) is holding forth this week at the little church on the Griffin road. The Moss Point Lumber Co's mills are running again, after repairing the engine smash-up.	Moss Point Miss. June 24, 1896.
Last Thursday evening Mr. Frank Dabney, while riding his wheel on Capt. Chas. Foster's wharf, had the misfortune to fall into the water, striking a log, bicycle and all. Mr. Dabney's collar-bone was broken, and rather than run the risk of future, and possibly more serious injury, gave the wheel to his attending physician, Dr. H. Leventberg. Truly, the fiery untamed steed becomes at times a fractious animal.	The funeral of Mrs. Greenough at the La-maitre graveyard was attended by a large number of friends. Rev. G. W. Huff held a protracted meeting at the Sea-shore last week, and is holding one at Orange Grove this week. Dr. E. F. Duke and family, late of Ocean Springs came in from Quantico station to attend the Sunday school picnic at the shore. Mr. Ellis Jones, watchman at the Moss Point Lumber Co's mills, was scalded pretty badly last Wednesday morning, and is not doing well.	MARRIED. On Wednesday, June 24, 1896, at 12:30 p. m., a quiet marriage was celebrated at the residence of Mr. John Y. Morgan. Miss MARY FOX, one of Scranton's dearest daughters, was wedded to Mr. GEO. W. GRAYSON, baggage agent of the L. & N. at Mobile. Rev. D. O. Byers officiating, relations and friends being in attendance. Among those present were Mrs. T. W. Grayson, Miss Ella Grayson, Mrs. J. C. Green and little daughter, Miss Lillian, from Ocean Springs.
The well-known ship and boat-builder of Scranton, Capt. William Gandy, has just completed at his ship yard, on Bayou Patassas, a large freight barge for Messrs. Chas. Clark & Co., Galveston, Texas. It is constructed in the staunchest possible manner. The dimensions are as follows: length, 145 feet; beam, 30 feet; depth of hold, 10 feet. The barge is to be named the Hannah, and reflects great credit on the skill and workmanship of her builder. The parties for whom she was built are so well pleased with the faithful carrying out of the contract that they have ordered a duplicate barge to be built on the same lines. The launching of the above mentioned craft took place this week and was largely attended. Capt. Gandy is also building a tug-boat hull 74 feet long by 15 1/2 wide for the same parties.	Rev. G. W. Huff will preach at Zion at 11 o'clock on the fourth Sunday, and will preach at Scranton at night of the same day (being next Sunday). Old lady Vice died at the residence of her son last week. Her death was very sudden, though her health had been bad for some time. The nice young man came to see his best girl again Sunday. The drive to the Springs is a most delightful one. Somebody else must have felt blue. Keep your cows out of your neighbor's garden. It shows a very bad principle to allow your stock to break into a poor man's garden and destroy it. Mr. Phil Davis makes and sells fine ice cream at his store on Dutch bayou, on Saturday evenings. Besides the ice cream, fresh and fine, he has watermelons just from the vine. He also keeps ice for sale. If you want to see style, drive out on the "Boulevard de Randall" on Sunday afternoon, and view the colored bon-tous perambulating that thoroughfare, dust and heat no obstacle. "Oh, my!" "Yes," said she, "they tell me that Dr. Turner said she had the perrytetters (meningitis) and the regression fever both together, and it was impossible for her to get well; and besides, he said that was de epyplepsy she had in the left side, and then she took the collapse on top of dat." "Ugh!-is dat so?"	The happy pair left on the 12:40 p. m. train for Cincinnati, Louisville and other points. On their return they will be found at their future home, No. 156, South Royal street, Mobile, Alabama. It is our earnest wish that the union thus happily consummated, may be crowned with all the bliss that earth can yield, and brighter bliss in Heaven.
Hon. D. D. Cowan, formerly of Ocean Springs and at present county superintendent of public education, who purchased the county poor-house farm north of Scranton several months ago, has accomplished wonders already. The tract, comprising about twelve acres, has been put in a state of perfect cultivation, and a fine crop of watermelons, cantaloupes, corn and garden truck already harvested or to be gathered. He commenced operations April 1st last, and with little or no help has accomplished this result. He has now secured the aid of Mr. Vincent Beyer and family, of Ocean Springs, together with his son, Clifton, to assist in the cultivation of the land and the sale of the products. Mr. Cowan's experience is added proof of the value of these lands for fruit and truck raising. He invites everybody, ladies as well as gentlemen, to call and see what can be done with industry, backed up by intelligence.	Mr. Phil Davis makes and sells fine ice cream at his store on Dutch bayou, on Saturday evenings. Besides the ice cream, fresh and fine, he has watermelons just from the vine. He also keeps ice for sale. "Ugh!-is dat so?"	At Pascagoula, Miss. Wednesday, June 24, 1896, at 8:15 p. m. in the Union church, by Rev. L. N. Brook, Mr. CLAY L. WATSON and Miss ANNA PRINCE. The pretty little church was beautifully decorated with evergreen, shrubbery and lovely flowers. During the ceremony the charming bride and handsome groom stood under a large horse shoe made of white flowers, and suspended from the center above, with two white birds on either side hovering over them. After receiving the congratulations of their friends the happy pair repaired to the bride's former home, where a delightful repast awaited them. The DEMOCRAT-STAR tenders its best wishes for their future happiness.
The pupils of the Holy Angels Academy held their graduation exercises Monday evening at Odd Fellows Hall. A rare programme was furnished for the dissection of the parents and others in attendance. Literary and musical exercises of a high order marked the occasion, and reflected credit upon this noble institution. Learning. Evidently the	The picnic and excursion to Sea-shore by the Baptist Sunday-school was well attended. The Professor got left, but got there all right by a later train. Some of the boys got off at Scranton to see the town and got left, but they got there all safe after a while. They had a fine day for pleasure and all enjoyed it, though some things at dinner time could have been made more pleasant. It was a matter of much regret that the pastor, Rev. J. F. Bynum, and wife could not attend, on account of sick children at home. Refreshing showers off and on visit our section of country. Indeed, a very wet-ter is much the order of the day, and the pretty summer girls with their new summer dresses and nice summer hats on, often wish	On Wednesday night, June 24, 1896, at the residence of the bride, on Bayou Cosotte, by Hon. Oliver Wood, Mr. CHARLES CLAYTON and Miss MARY E. TRENKLE. No cards, but plenty of cake and rice.
		DIED. In Scranton, Miss. Thursday, June 25, 1896, at 10:20 a. m. after a lingering illness, Mrs. MARGARET ISABELLA NIX, wife of Mr. W. H. Nix, aged 79 years, 2 months and 2 days.
